Matt Cardona opened with a prayer.

A “hearty” breakfast was enjoyed by all thanks to our esteemed cooking team led by Greg Grumbles and Greg Miller.

Dickson began the meeting by introducing Jennie Cardona who in-turn introduced our guest speaker, Jenna Martinez, director of the Church’s Child Development Center.

Jenna related that she was from East Texas, Silsbee, and has lived in the Buda area for 5-6 years, has two children and this is the third Center she has been a part opening. And because of Covid, her last place of employment was closed. We are fortunate to have found her. Her talk was generally a question-and-answer discussion. We found out that the CDC would be open for business around the 27th of this month and had a capacity of about 60 children. And because we already have a pre-enrollment of about 20 children, mostly younger ones, she has already had to add additional staff.

Dickson gave a brief summary of the results of the pumpkin patch, saying we were in the neighborhood of grossing about 22k. He summarized saying it was a successful patch (he related several heart-warming experiences) even though we had a large amount of spoilage (heat related). He gave special recognition to Gary Lindahl for all the of volunteer hours he contributed.

The men’s retreat has been set for the weekend of April 5th, 2024. A backup date of April 12th was discussed, but Dale Burnett was 99% sure that the April 5th date would work.

Joe Mathis reported that the day Care Playground needed very little work and would be ready to go for the scheduled November 27th opening date.

November 7th, next Tuesday was set aside for clean-up of the Pumpkin Patch. The meeting was adjourned.
